Are You a Victim of the “Aircon Syndrome”?

Stuck in the office for long hours? You might just be a victim of the aircon syndrome. As more and more people are staying in air-conditioned rooms for prolonged periods, our bodies subconsciously experience anxiety, cold limbs, headaches and even insomnia. This is caused by a phenomenon where rapid cooling generates an abundance of positive ions in the environment, disrupting the body’s electrical balance.

What Are Positive Ions? Why Are They Harmful?

Positive ions are everywhere. They are ions produced from air conditioners, UV rays, Wi-Fi, electronic devices, computers, mobile phones and many more. Excessive levels of positive ions can upset our bodies’ electrical stability, causing common day symptoms like stress, fatigue, poor concentration, and even depression. How does this happen?

When our bodies ingest too many positive ions, stable cells are damaged through the loss of negative electrons, becoming free radicals¹ in the body. This increases the acidity in our bodies and damages healthy cells, causing the issue of chronic conditions and illnesses.

¹ Free Radicals – Molecules which are lacking electron(s), that move freely around the body, attempting to grab electrons from other body cells to become stable.

Positive Ions → Oxidation → Decomposition → Damage

Damages the health condition of all living things

What Positive Ions Damages, Negative Ions Repairs.

Unless we move into the mountains and cut ourselves free of all electronics, it is impossible to steer clear of positive ions as they are a by product of our modern livelihood.

In other words, we cannot avoid it, but we can only find ways to coexist with it.

A simple solution would be to counter using negative ions. As we introduce negative ions into the body, they are responsible for neutralizing the free radicals, preventing cells from oxidizing and aging.

Negative Ions → Reduction By Electron (Detox) → Synthesis → Recovery

Promotes the robust growth of people and all living things

Integrating Technology and Nature into Your Daily Wellness Routine.

Introducing the VION Air & Skin Series, a line of Ion Therapy devices that produces millions of negative ions at your fingertips. VION Lite, Ambio, Glade & Enviro are designed for your home and personal needs. They support both air and direct skin absorption through the VION Conductive Pad and Mat, enabling practicality and comfort in your wellness journey.

How Does VION Support Better Negative Ion Absorption?

Studies demonstrated that negative ion absorption directly through the skin has an efficacy rate of 85%, as compared to breathing which only has 15% efficacy. This is because the ions can pass through hair follicles of the skin and enter the blood capillaries directly, making the negative ion healing process more effective.

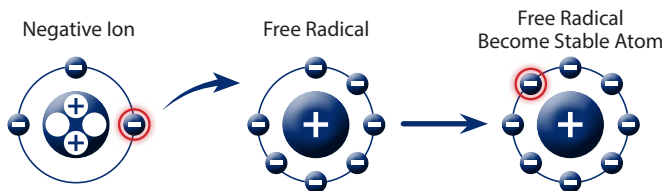

By integrating cutting edge technology and nature into your daily wellness routine, you no longer have to undergo a thunderstorm to experience the benefits of negative ions. VION is bringing the essence of nature, closer to you.

Some Benefits Include:

- Cell reparation and rejuvenation
- Strengthened immunity
- Stress and fatigue relief
- Cramp and ache reduction
- Improved resistance to diseases
- Accelerated treatment of diseases

Benefits of Negative Ions (Electron Reduction Process)

Our environment filled with positive ions has created an overabundance of free radicals in our bodies.

Negative ions can donate an extra negative electron to free radicals, neutralizing it. This reduces your risk of health illnesses and chronic conditions.

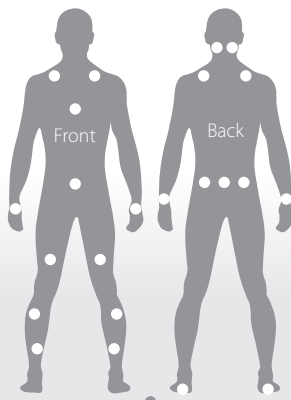

Improvements on the following conditions were observed with the use of VION negative ion skin absorption (through conductive pad and mat).

- Liver and Kidney Function, High Uric Acid Levels
- High Blood Glucose Levels
- Cardiovascular Problems and High Blood Pressure
- Menstrual Pain and Menopausal Symptoms
- Sleeping Problems
- Frozen Shoulder, Sciatica, Joint Pains
- Allergies

Millions of Negative Ions can be absorbed into our body through VION conductive pad and mat.

Recommended placement for VION mat.

Recommended acupressure points to adhere VION pad.
